

The object disappears.
The subject disappears.

An object disappears within itself.
A subject disappears within him- or herself.

The object contains its own disappearance.
The subject contains his or her own disappearance.

An object is absent.
A subject is absent.

The object contains the absence of a subject.